From: Paul A. Strassmann
Subject: Consolidation of Finance Systems

Under the DMRD 910 there was a comprehensive data call which identified all DoD accounting and finance computer applications. I understand that it found over 500 separate applications, with a high degree of overlap and excessive maintenance costs.

Please let me know when I can expect to see a map - validated by DFAS so as to reflect DFAS functional migration plans - which will display the extent of software redundancies. We would be then in a position to draw a diagram of the proposed software merger and integration plans.

There are graphic techniques available for getting such a product. Potentially it should be presentable to Congressional staffs - sometimes in the Fall - as an example what CIM technical integration will deliver.
